American Troops Close to Heels of Retreating
Huns on the North Bank of the Marne
East of Chateau-Thierry

GERMANS ARE BURNING VILLAGES

Reported, Also, to Be Destroying Munitions and War Material in the Entire Salient Which
They Find to Impossible to Move

(By the Associated Press.)

The drive by the American and French forces into Soissons and Rheims salient and into the region of the Marne continues. The Germans at some points are counterattacking desperately, but their efforts thus far have proved futile in more than impeding the advance.

Further ground has been gained by the Allied forces south of Soissons and in the center of the ground south of the Ourcq and north and south of Chateau-Thierry. Additional large numbers of Germans have been made prisoners and numerous quantities of guns and war materials have been captured.

In the Marne region the American troops on the northern bank of the Marne are well on the heels of the retreating enemy east of Chateau-Thierry, between Charteves and Gland. At last reports their advance had been pushed virtually four miles from their old position on the south bank and they were pressing the enemy northward in the direction of Fere-en-Tardenois, possibly with the intention of endeavoring to link up with the French forces along the Ourcq.

Farther east along the Marne the French have been enabled to throw forces along the stream.

Severe fighting is in progress between the British, French and Italian troops, and the enemy southwest of Rheims, where the British have made a further advance, while in Champagne, to the east of Rheims, the French are reported to have regained all their front line position between the river Sappey and the town of Massiges.

The German defenses have noticeably stiffened on the western side of the Rheims-Soissons salient. Although large numbers of reserves have been thrown into the fighting, the maneuvers seem to be in the nature of strong rear-guard actions designed to help the rear divisions of the enemy in the Chateau-Thierry pocket to escape north-eastward, than for the purpose of standing and giving battle or opposing and beating back the Franco-American troops.

That the Germans realize to the full that the Allies now have the upper hand in the battle seems apparent from reports that they are burning

PRESIDENT WILSON PLANS RUSSIAN AID

Preparing Clear Statement of America's Aims and Purposes

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Plans of the United States for participating in the expedition to give military aid to Russia are expected to be announced in a public statement by President Wilson very soon, probably before the end of the week.

The statement, it is understood, will be of a very explicit nature, besides making clear the means of the aid to be extended, that the United States has only selfish motives and intends to stand firmly by the side of the Russian people in their fight for a democracy. The sending of economic aid also will be announced in the President's statement, but the personnel of the commission probably will not be.

Plans for the military expedition to be conducted jointly by the United States and Japan, while Great Britain and France, it is understood, do not at this time contemplate the reconquest of the eastern front as a feasible line to draw the German troops from the west.

The object of the expedition, as they will be outlined in detail in President Wilson's statement, while he personally is preparing, will be to protect American interests, the interest of the Russian people themselves in their fight for democracy and in the safe-guarding of vast supplies, which will be sent to Russia as part of the American economic aid.

DANIELS ASKS FOR EXPLANATION

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Secretary Daniels today asked the commandant of the first naval district for a report as to the reason for the failure of bombs to explode after they were dropped by aviators, who yesterday attacked a German submarine off the Maine coast. The aviators twice fired over the submarine when it was emitting a tug and barge, but apparently none of the bombs they let loose exploded.

TO FLY 250 MILES AN HOUR

Airplanes With That Speed Can Easily
Be Made Said Expert.

London, England, July 22.—"It would be very easy for any English airplane manufacturer to produce a machine which could make better than 250 miles an hour," declared Captain W. G. Aston, one of the leading English experts on air mechanics, here the other day.

"This could be accomplished," he explained, "by merely altering the curvature, or camber, of the planes. But this would mean a minimum landing speed of about 150 miles an hour, and there is the great difficulty. The machine would be unquestionably flyable, but its successful landing would require an aerodrome five or six miles long, to say nothing of extraordinary skill on the part of the pilot."

DECISION ON WEDNESDAY

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Decisions on the request of representatives of organized baseball that the effective time of the "work or fight" regulations as they apply to professional baseball players be extended to the end of the present season, was postponed today until Wednesday. This action was taken by the National Baseball commission which presented a brief setting forth of its views in the matter.

GERMANS CALL IT SUCCESS

Berlin, Germany, the London, England, July 22.—The war office reports that the fighting in France on Sunday resulted in a complete success for the German army.

The official statement issued today describes numerous heavy operations on all parts of the salient between Soissons and Rheims, and declares that all assaults of the Allied forces were repulsed.

ADVANCE CONTINUES AT LESSENER SPEED

Several Towns Fall Into the Possession of the Entente
Allies, However

With the American Army on the Alsne-Marne area July 22, 1:15 p. m.—The Franco-American advance continued this morning, along the line of the south and to the west. The Germans gave more ground and are slowly continuing their backward movement to the north of Chateau-Thierry.

Two additional towns have been taken by the Americans on the front north of the Marne since daylight this morning.

In the region south of Soissons another town was captured by the Americans. In the Soissons sector still another town has fallen into the hands of the French, improving the Allied position and likewise covering the enemy lines of communication. The enemy is increasing his resistance south from Soissons where every yard which the Allies pushed forward further hampered the German line of supplies. On the front where the Franco-American forces are pushing in just to the north of the Marne the enemy is carrying out violent and stubborn rear guard actions, but despite these the Allies continue their gains.

The Germans left numbers of machine guns in the path of the Allied progress and are using their artillery in guarding the slow retreat.

On the whole, the concentrated forces of the Crown Prince have materially slowed down the Allied progress. There is no indication, however, that the enemy will be able to counter attack successfully.

Additional prisoners were taken in today's fighting.

There were signs everywhere today that the Germans are destroying the material and munitions in the pocket to the north of the river Marne between Soissons and Rheims, preparatory to the entire evacuation of that area. The Germans are having the greatest difficulty in maintaining their communications in the salient. They are unable to utilize most of the railroads leading northward, owing to the incessant harrasing from Entente Allied aviators and artillery.

The night was comparatively calm, but several local counter attacks were executed by the Germans in an endeavor to cover the retreat of their main body. These attacks in every instance were unsuccessful.

GERMAN CAMOUFLAGE

Has Been Brought to State of Artistic Perfection.

London, England, July 22.—A British air officer writing from the western front says that the Germans have this spring brought camouflage to a state of artistic perfection that is almost incredible. "The most expert and highly experienced airmen are often deceived even when flying low," he writes. "As a first step, the German military authorities sought suggestions from the most distinguished German artists in color. As a next step, every available man was turned on to the business of carrying out the artists' ideas."

"Miles of canvas painted to look like roads were constructed, under which regiments could march without being seen. Paper encampments were improvised, and aerodromes, woods, villages and factories of a purely fictitious character were set up merely to distract observers and to cover the movements of troops and guns. Nothing on so vast a scale has ever been attempted before."

SEE TEN MILLIONS NOW

Germans Now Realize That Yanks
Are Good Fighters.

With the American Army on the Alsne-Marne front, July 22.—A German prisoner captured by the Americans today formerly was a baker in New York city and Lebanon, Pa. He was asked what the German soldiers thought about the Americans.

Before Thursday, he said, the Germans had concluded that the announcement that a million Americans were in France, was false. Rumors among the Germans on this front now are that there are 19,000,000 Americans in France.

SUBMARINES LESS EFFECTIVE

Paris, France, July 22.—The growing ineffectiveness of the submarine warfare is indicated by official figures just published by the French government, relating to the French traffic in the Mediterranean.

According to these figures, no less than 2,059 vessels, chiefly merchantmen, with a total tonnage of 9,540,490, crossed the Mediterranean between February 24 and April 1, under escort. The average number of ships under way, coming in or going away from France, was 249.

The submarine attacks nevertheless had so diminished in force that only one in four resulted in damages to the ships. The result has been that the water traffic has steadily increased.

Steamer in Distress

Nantuxet, Mass., July 22.—An airplane which landed at the village of Waumnet tonight brought word that a steamer was in distress near Great Round shoal, about five miles off the eastern end of the island. The vessel was described as in need of immediate assistance, but the nature of her injuries was not disclosed.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—The navy department late tonight had received no information concerning a steamer reported to be in distress off Nantuxet Island. On account of the nearness of the steamer's position to the region where a German submarine attacked the tug Perth Amboy and two barges, considerable interest was manifested in the item.

and the Men Fighting

HIS LETTER TO LEWIS

Former President Declares That Position of Governor Requires
Whole-Hearted Devotion

Oyster Bay, July 22.—Col. Roosevelt issued a statement tonight, in which he declared under no circumstances would he accept the nomination for governor of New York state.

The former president made this announcement when he sent a telegram to Attorney General Merton E. Lewis at Albany in reply to the message sent by the attorney general several days ago offering to withdraw from the race is the Colonel would become a candidate.

In his telegram Col. Roosevelt did not mention any of the subjects which were taken up by the Republicans at their convention last week. He did not refer to prohibition nor woman suffrage nor did he propose a candidate for governor. The message follows:

"Dear Mr. Lewis: I am very genuinely touched by the spirit of your request and I need hardly say how much I appreciate the honor you do me, but I cannot be a candidate for nor accept the nomination for governor of New York." The position of governor in a state, and especially in this great and most populous state, is one of the highest consequences and there is no man in the United States who ought not to feel honored to have the chance of filling it. But the duties of the place are not only of the highest importance but are also very exacting and arduous and demand all of any man's time and energy, and whoever occupies the place should devote himself wholeheartedly to the work and, therefore, his heart and soul and brain should be wholeheartedly in the work. This was true of me 20 years ago when I became governor of New York. It is not and cannot be true of me now.

"For the last four years my whole being has been absorbed in the consideration of the tremendous problems, national and international, created by the war. I have thought of them and dwelt on them in my mind to the exclusion of all other subjects. I could not turn from them with my heart to deal with another subject, even the domestic problems of this great state, deeply though I appreciate the problems of this great state.

"My work is for the men who are fighting in this war. My mind dwells continuously on the problems of the war, and the international problems of the peace which is to close and justify the war, and on the tremendous problems, social and industrial, with which we shall be faced after the war is ended. This being so, the very fact of my intense appreciation of the magnitude of New York state and the interest which the governor of New York state must feel, forbid my undertaking a task to which I could not bring the whole of whatever strength, thought and ability I possess. Again assuring you of my very great appreciation and with very real regret, I am,

Faithfully yours,

Theodore Roosevelt."

HOPES TO SETTLE STRIKE

Lynn, Mass., July 22.—Walker Fish, general manager of the Lynn plant of the General Electric, tonight said that government officials had requested information concerning strikers who are in the first classification of the draft, but who have been exempted on account of their employment on important war contracts.

Mr. Fish said that he had asked the authorities to defer any action for 10 days in the hope that the strike would be ended.

General Pershing's Report

Washington, D. C., July 22.—The Americans have crossed south of the Ourcq and south of Chateau-Thierry, the road between the Ourcq and the Clignon tonight, Gen. Pershing reported in today's communique.

DEMOCRATS FAIL TO FIND THE MAN

Unable to Agree Upon Standard
Bearer For State Campaign

OPPOSITION TO HEARST

Well Nigh Universal Up State
Glynn and Lunn to Speak
—Women Active

Saratoga Springs, July 22.—So far from agreement upon a man to head their ticket, were the Democratic leaders tonight that it was virtually decided to continue the state convention, which opens tomorrow noon, through Wednesday. The original plan had been to finish the business, including the expression of opinion concerning a state ticket, by Tuesday night.

The uncertainty concerning the attitude of Col. Roosevelt toward the Republican gubernatorial nomination, the almost united up-state antipathy to the William R. Hearst movement, and the general inability to get together on a standard bearer, made the leaders almost unanimous in their opinion that more time was required. Accordingly, the meeting of the "committee of 15," a sub-committee appointed recently at Syracuse by the "committee of 42," was postponed until tomorrow morning. It had been planned to hold it tonight.

Joseph J. Murphy of Troy, one of the "15," said tonight that the postponement was taken in order that additional up-state sentiment might be obtained and that there might be no ground for an accusation that Democrats were trying to rush things along.

With the notice of postponement, plans for the convention session tomorrow also were changed. It was announced that former Governor Martin T. Glynn of Albany and Representative George R. Lunn, whose friends still are active in his behalf for gubernatorial honors, would be speakers and that other convention attendants might be called upon to address the gathering. The original program called for only a "keynote" address at the opening session tomorrow by former Supreme Court Justice John Augustus Keellig as temporary chairman. With the announcement of the changes came word that any delegate who had anything to say would be given an opportunity to say it and that the convention would be turned into a regular old fashioned town meeting, if such was the will of the majority.

The leaders spent most of the day attempting to eliminate without friction some of the seven men who were named at the Syracuse meeting as being acceptable to up-state Democrats. The seven were: William Church Osborn, Alfred E. Smith, Mayor Harry C. Walker of Binghamton, James W. Gerard, Charles B. Alexander, George R. Lunn and William H. Edwards.

Some of the committee said tonight that it would be impossible to agree upon a candidate at tomorrow morning's meeting and that seven names would be presented to the convention.

Others expressed confidence that the list could be narrowed to two or three before the convention is called to order.

The platform committee was in session tonight under the chairmanship of Senator Robert S. Wagner, putting the finishing touches on the tentative draft which was brought here tonight. Democratic women were not as prominent in the pre-convention activities as were the Republican women last week. Several representatives of the National party, including Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker, and Miss Dora Stevens of Washington were present. A number of women from Greater New York arrived during the day. The up-state women were headed by Miss Katherine Starbuck of this city, who with a commission of local suffragists, opened headquarters.

Talk of recommending that a woman have a place on the ticket decreased during the day from last night's announcements of Chairman Harris of the State committee that the women generally were not seeking office. Announcement also reached the city that Miss Kate Mahoney of Troy, who had been mentioned as a possibility as Secretary of State, had declined to permit the use of her name and could not attend the convention.

The greatest activity of the new voters centered in their efforts to obtain a strong suffrage plank in the platform. They were re-assured of a suffrage plank but worked hard to get the best possible declaration.

Hearst Will Enter Primary

William Randolph Hearst intends to enter the race for nomination for governor no matter who is recommended to the state by the unofficial convention which meets tonight according to the statement made by J. O'Reilly, long Hearst's confidential secretary and now Commissioner of Water Supply in New York city. Mr. O'Reilly's announcement was made upon his arrival here tonight and served to relieve a much involved situation.

Another candidate, William Church Osborn, one of the seven men recommended by the committee of 15 at its Syracuse meeting, already has announced that he will go into the

TEUTON CONSPIRACY PLANNED

Using German Reservists to Invade
Canada and Mexico.

New York, July 22.—The Teuton conspiracy planned, even after this country's entrance into the war, to use German reservists to invade Canada and Mexico is indicated in the seized correspondence of Dr. Frederick August Richard von Strensch, official of the Department of Justice declared here today. Von Strensch, when arrested recently, was described by the officials as the protégé of Bismarck. Today he was described as a relative of the German emperor. The object of the proposed invasions, according to authorities, were to hamper the dispatch of Canadian troops abroad and to arm Mexicans for the purpose of making an attack on the United States.

BOOM FOR A. E. SMITH STARTS AT SARATOGA

Hearst's Announcement of Intention to Enter Primary
Gives It Impetus

Saratoga Springs, July 22.—Alfred E. Smith, president of the New York board of aldermen, was rapidly gaining strength tonight. Part of the pronounced "swing" to him was due to the formal announcement that William Randolph Hearst would enter the field. Most of the up-state men are hostile to the Hearst candidacy and a series of informal conferences was held tonight in an effort to designate one man who would be acceptable to all the factions and elements in the party.

Mr. Smith, it was argued, is personally popular throughout the state by virtue of his experience in the legislature as leader of his party in the assembly, and as a member of the New York city government he is familiar with the problems of government.

William M. McCombes, former chairman of the National Democratic committee, declared tonight that the Smith sentiment was the outstanding feature of the night. This claim was disputed by the supporters of Mayor Harry C. Walker, the Binghamton candidate. It was most apparent in the way of badges and buttons. The Hearst aspirations were manifested by the distribution of pamphlets quoting editorials from the Hearst papers in the interest of temperance and woman suffrage. Considerable talk in regard to former Ambassador James W. Gerard developed during the day, but was dispelled tonight with the announcement that Mr. Gerard had notified some of the leaders over the telephone that he would not consent to be a candidate.

At a meeting of women delegates tonight a committee was appointed to appear before the committee of 15 tomorrow and request that the feminine voters be recognized with a place on the ticket. This action was in answer to a statement by Chairman Edwin S. Harris that the women did not want a candidate, and that only men candidates would be selected.

The resolutions committee remained in session at midnight. It was understood that the principal contention was over a municipal ownership plank.

TO GUARD SHIP YARD PLANS

Government Forbids Their Removal from Country.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—An order issued today by Secretary McAdoo instructing custom collectors to refuse permits to all except government officials for taking ship and shipyard plans out of the country revealed that agents of the shipping board recently soiled in New York a large amount of valuable specifications on a ship clearing for Scandinavian ports.

The specifications dealt minutely with America's shipbuilding program and also with vessels under construction in this country for the French navy. Some of them were the property of American builders, who explained that they had been asked for plans as a basis for post-war orders. Investigation is being made of the purpose for which the other shipments were intended.

TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY

Cleveland, Ohio, July 22.—At a meeting of the American League baseball owners, called by President B. Johnson here late today, to take action on Secretary Baker's decision that baseball is non-essential, definite action was postponed pending a meeting of President Johnson and war office officials on the "work or fight" regulations as they apply to professional ball players. The meeting probably will take place Wednesday. Pending final action the American League teams will play out their scheduled games.

primaries regardless of what the conference does.

"Mr. Hearst will be a candidate no matter what this convention does, he believes in the direct primary system," said Mr. O'Reilly, "but he has no objections to action by this convention. However, as he is a firm believer in the direct primary system, he will abide by the result of the primary and will support in the election, the primary's choice."

During the evening Alfred E. Smith's followers were active, and the followers of Mr. Hearst started their activity upon Mr. O'Reilly's arrival.

RAINCOAT MEN GUILTY OF GRAFT

17 Officers of Concerns in New York and Brooklyn Arrested

HUNDRED THOUSANDS

Of Government Contracts Tainted
With Fraud Say Government
Agents

New York, July 22.—Extensive conspiracies involving bribery and graft in connection with army contracts for rubber raincoats sent to France were disclosed tonight by department of justice officials simultaneously with the arrest of 17 officers and employees of 16 manufacturing companies in New York and Brooklyn on charges of bribery and conspiracy.

Army officers of the Quartermaster's corps involved in the graft are now under surveillance and probably will be arrested soon in Washington or other cities where their duties as purchasing agents and inspectors take them.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars of raincoat contracts are tainted with fraud already uncovered by department of justice agents, and other disclosures affecting army orders for clothing, soldiers' equipment, machinery and supplies, involving arrests, may be made soon, it was learned.

Most of the army officers to whom the finger of suspicion points are of the lower rank, but a few of the rank of major and colonel are said to be under investigation.

Department of justice officials tonight declined to indicate whether they believed any great proportion of army contracts were obtained by bribery or other fraud or other means, but they declared many millions of dollars of goods have been delivered on suspicious contracts.

Direct bribery of unnamed army officers who had charge of letting contracts or inspecting goods is charged against a number of those arrested tonight. It was announced that in some cases manufacturers intimidated army or civilian inspectors by threatening to use influence in Washington to obtain their dismissal, if they did not approve the coats manufactured. Others practiced fraud by secretly shifting rejected goods to another place to which inexperienced inspectors or inspectors who would play the game were assigned by the war department.

Those arrested were: Seligs Gould, a wealthy clothing manufacturer, who is charged as acting as go-between for the manufacturers and for seeking to solicit contracts under the contingent fee system; Joseph Syde-man, William Syde-man and Joseph Wood, of the Syde-man Rubber company; Ralph Hone, of the Yorkshire Manufacturing company; Charles Clottell and Benjamin Clottell, of the Clottell Raincoat company; Ralph Rosenthal, of Hanover and Rosenthal; Alfred Zittel, of the Automobile Raincoat company Inc.; Lieutenant Fred S. Halpern of the Interborough Raincoat company; Haley Clamon, of the Manchester Waterproof Coat company; I. A. Hapern, of the National Cement Raincoat company; Sherman Harris, of the Harris Raincoat company; Morris Lesser, of Lesser and Stenge; Joseph Pines, of the Pines Rubber company and L. H. Yellin, of the Eureka Rubber Manufacturing company.

TRYING TO RAISE BARGES

Wrecking Fleet Endeavors to Salvage
Fourth and Tug Perth Amboy.

Orleans, Mass., July 22.—Efforts were made by a wrecking fleet to raise the three barges sunk by a German submarine off shore near here yesterday and to salvage a fourth barge and the tug Perth Amboy, damaged by shell fire from the submarine.

It is estimated that the three torpedoes launched at the boat cost $15,000 each, to say nothing of the other ammunition expended in the hour and a half's bombardment of the vessels.

Captain Charles Ainslie, commander of the barge Lansford, who was wounded in both arms by fragments of shells was rescued comfortably today. His wounds while painful, are not serious.

BRITISH SEND AID

Paris, France, July 22.—When the Bavarian crown prince answered the German crown prince's appeal for help and sent some of his divisions from the Picardy front to aid the Germans in the Marne salient, an equal number of British divisions were detached from the northern front and moved to the battle sector southwest of Rheims. The British divisions are composed of picked troops.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The New York Markets.

New York, July 22. — Stocks were seemingly indifferent today to the continued favorable bulletins from the western battle front, the war group reacting only to almost three points under professional pressure.

Rails began the day adversely on Reading's heaviness, but led the partial rally of the afternoon, Canadian Pacific recording an extreme gain of two points on settlement of the threatened strike in the Dominion.

Contributing fully 30 per cent to the day's moderate turnover, U. S. steel reacted two points from its early maximum and closed almost at the lowest level, with a net loss of 1 1/2 points.

Bonds eased on light dealings. U. S. bonds, old issues, were unchanged on call.

ONE-TIME JUNGLE PASTURES CATTLE

Now Furnishes Beef and Milk for 150,000 People in the Canal Zone.

DONE BY DITCH DIGGERS

Men Who Are Now Running Canal at Time When Its Importance in Winning War Is Vital and Imperative.

Christobal, C. Z.—It may safely be said that nowhere else in the world except in the Canal Zone could have developed a great pasture area out of a tropical jungle and put the cattle on it to support a population of 150,000 people with beef and milk in a year's time.

But this is what the men who dug the canal and are now running it have done. War's threat of famine has no terrors for them. It is also literally true that this industrial feat has been accomplished by the real ditch diggers, the men who were the rank and file of a few years ago, but who are now running the canal at a time when its importance in winning the war is so vital and imperative. The gunpowder material for the allies passes through the canal, and it may win the war before the great atmospheric nitrogen plants get into operation in the United States.

Economical Independence.

To make the force of men engaged in the maintenance, operation and defense of the canal economically independent of outside sources of food supply to the greatest possible extent, has become the fixed policy here, and the progress of the war daily vindicates its wisdom. There are hundreds of thousands of idle acres near the canal and hundreds of thousands of idle or comparatively idle men in adjoining countries, and the use of both these unemployed assets is self-evidently desirable.

Pineapples and sugar from Hawaii constantly pass the canal, when coconuts and pineapples grow freely and luxuriantly here; oranges are imported from California and Florida; even fish from Europe sometimes, when Panama's waters abound in excellent red snapper and Spanish mackerel. It is a curious comment on industry that this situation should have existed here for 400 years, but at least it is being remedied.

To Whom Credit Is Due.

The main active agent in this work is the chief quartermaster of the canal, R. K. Morris, who is one of the "boys who grew up on the canal." He began as a clerk at a little over twenty years of age, some 14 years ago, and has now become the Hoover of the zone and perhaps the biggest agriculturist in Latin America. Mr. Morris has taken up the work with intelligent enthusiasm, studied it from many angles, got a corps of practical experts, and is bidding fair to solve some of the most important and difficult problems that have ever confronted tropical pioneers. He is in line to do with tropical agriculture what General Gorgas did with tropical sanitation.

The time is very propitious and the results will be well worth watching.

Excuses of Little Value.

The world does not want men who offer excuses in place of accomplishment. Often it is compelled to accept excuses. Often it experiences genuine sorrow for the man who, instead of succeeding, brings back a satisfactory excuse for failure. But when the time for advancement comes, the man who is pushed forward is he who has done the work, who has not offered hard-luck stories in place of successful effort. In him confidence can be placed.

Likes Hotel; Buys It.

Hillsboro, Ore.—William McQuillan liked the Tualatin hotel here. He'd boarded there for twenty years. So when the proprietors decided to go out of business McQuillan bought the hotel for $10,000 so he could keep on living there and enjoy the cuisine.

How to Tell Age of Eggs.

There is a simple method of ascertaining the age of eggs, based upon the fact that the air space at the broad end of the egg increases with its age. Now, when the egg is placed in a tumbler of water in which any amount of common salt is dissolved, it will, with increasing age, tend ever more to assume a position with its longitudinal axis in a perpendicular direction. A fresh laid egg will lie horizontally on the bottom of the vessel. An egg from three to four days old will rise with its broad end, so that its longitudinal axis forms with its horizontal axis an angle of 20 degrees. At the age of eight days the angle increases to 45 degrees, at the age of two weeks to 60 degrees, and at the age of three weeks to about 75 degrees. When the egg is more than a month old it will float perpendicularly on its small end.

GET NEW KIDNEYS!

The kidneys are the most overworked organs of the human body, and when they fail in their work of filtering out and throwing off the poison developed in the system, things begin to happen. One of the first warnings is pain or stiffness in the lower part of the back; highly colored urine; loss of appetite; indigestion; irritation, or even stone in the bladder. These symptoms indicate a condition that may lead to that dreaded and fatal malady, Bright's disease, for which there is said to be no cure. You can almost certainly have kidneys are tried a GOLD MEDAL Hearten Oil Capsules. For more than 20 years this famous preparation has been an unfailing remedy for all kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. Get it at any drug store, and if it does not give you almost immediate relief, your money will be refunded. Be sure you get the GOLD MEDAL brand. None other genuine. In boxes, three sizes.

Do not complain about the hot weather. Only two weeks ago everybody was talking about the cold and the delayed vegetation. Now it is hot; and corn, potatoes and practically everything else is shooting heavenward. Let the sun have a chance, and let the vegetable have a chance also. We'll need all the warm weather on the schedule to bring crops to maturity.

Whether Roosevelt will or will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, there is no doubt that he has a following which will embrace those strong party men who are opposed to Whitman, and a large number of women who for the first time this year will enjoy the right of franchise. It is not probable that Lewis could win out against Whitman, but Roosevelt, backed by the Lewis vote, might do so. And whether Whitman or Roosevelt is the candidate, the winner, if elected governor in November, has the inside track in 1920 for the presidency.

If in fact the oft-reported murdered ear is this time irrevocably dead, the man who will make the most fuss about it and really mourn the least will no doubt be his august cousin, the Kaiser. There is not much left of the direct line of the Russian royal family, and what there is the Bolsheviks may be trusted to finish up when their fellow conspirators in Germany give the signal. In the end there will be one or more vacant thrones, assuming the almost incredible thing that the Kaiser wins; and those thrones will be comfortable resting places for some of the miraculously preserved sons of Wilhelm the Bluffer, and will fit well into his wonderful scheme for Prussanizing the world.

Not in any of the dispatches from Germany or elsewhere in Europe does one read nowadays of the Hindenburg line or of Hindenburg himself as commander. That he is ill, that he has disagreed with the Kaiser, that he is dead, run the stories. In fact he might as well be dead as to disagree with William the Sudden; and that he is at any rate dispossessed of his high authority seems now to be evident enough. Ludendorff is now the popular idol and is in supreme command, just as he was four years ago when Foch rallied before at the Marne, and his troops were sent reeling back from the Fere-Champenoise. There is poetic justice in Foch, to whom France owed so much in 1914, being now supreme commander and as such repeating the tactics of four years ago.

The dropping by German airmen of definite information concerning the death of Quentin Roosevelt on the American lines, and the tidings of his honorable burial by them, is in keeping with the traditions. It is held by aviators that the birdmen, while the bravest are the most considerate, courteous and chivalrous of German combatants, and the present instance will help to confirm the belief. That branch of the German are of war has not, despite the raids on French and English cities, been entirely contaminated by Kultur.

The big point which the brewers make against the fuel administrator's order denying them coal is that they have $50,000,000 invested in their plants. In these days when we count in billions this doesn't look big, and even in the days of the rebellion the south had $100,000,000 in slaves.

TRI-COUNTY CONVENTION.

Business Men of Otsego, Delaware and Chenango to Meet at Norwich.

Much interest is already being shown in the approaching Tri-County Business Men's convention to be held in Norwich, August 5.

Norwich Chamber of Commerce through its efficient acting secretary, Mr. Wassing, is endeavoring to arrange a program that will prove interesting and instructive. At present tentative plans are perfected short addresses will be given by speakers from the three counties included in the conference, after which some speaker of national reputation will be on the program.

The Norwich people have not yet announced whether the exercises will be held in a public building or in one of their numerous parks, but it is understood every effort possible will be made to have the affair informal and interesting.

Oneonta will endeavor to send a number of automobiles with representative citizens who will not only take part in the exercises but will furnish also creditable number to the audience.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Ready Now.

That Foch was able to take the initiative on the fourth day of the new German offensive makes in itself a mighty change in the situation on the western front. In all the previous German offensives from Marne to the British and French were compelled to exert all their power to halt the triumphant progress of the German armies. After three days of the present German offensive, Foch was able to disregard the German attempts to advance and to lead a quick and short movement that threatens the whole German campaign in the region of the Champagne.

Two facts stand out clearly and lastingly as a result of this week's operations. One of them is the complete demonstration of the plain advantages of a direct command. The other is the final proof of the fighting qualities of the American troops, with all that these qualities imply in relation to the future of the war.—[New York World.]

Rus-In Getting "Fed Up."

Some critics think that the Allies should have sent troops or "done something" for Russia long ago. The fact should not be overlooked, however, that during the last year not only of Russia, the Russian people have had a first-hand introduction to German methods. The result of this experience should be that Russians should be glad to accept America and the Allies as saviors and to turn against the Germans.

The Germans are plainly nervous over Russia, which is among the best evidence that Russia may yet wake up, judge her condition with accuracy, and do her best to clean Germanism out of Russia.—[Utica Observer.]

So Dear of Him!

She was very pretty, but not especially endowed with brains. Her escort had explained that the man behind the catcher was the umpire. "What does he do?" she asked.

"He calls balls and strikes and tells whether or not a man is safe at the plate."

"Oh, I see. He is there to warn the batsmen when he sees the pitcher is going to hit him with the ball. How sweetly thoughtful that is!"—[Boston Transcript.]

Their Own Medicine.

The horrors of gas warfare would not have been suffered in this war if the German command had not willed it. It was their idea, and if the mustard gas now going their way inflicts the same excruciating agony upon them that the British and French soldiers suffered when they were deluged with chlorine at a time when no man outside of Germany dreamed that such an atrocity was possible, the men who conceived the idea and forced it on the world are responsible. The pity is that the gas from the Allied side will never blind the eyes and peel the skins of the Kaiser and his high command.—[St. Louis Republican.]

A Bit of Justice.

The announcement that 251,000 American soldiers were carried in British ships to France in April, May and June was only a bit of justice to Great Britain, whose co-operation has made possible our great overseas troop movement. At the same time justice requires recognition of the fact that the troops could have been sent to France earlier had they been asked for and had the shipping for their transport been provided.—[Springfield Republican.]

A Comparative Tribute.

More streets in Europe are named in honor of President Wilson every day than will be named in honor of the Kaiser throughout the whole existence of the world.—[New York Sun.]

Leaving for Democratic Convention.

Along with the weather the situation in Democratic circles in this state, and Saratoga before nightfall was crowded with leaders from the metropolitan district and the up-state counties. Hon. L. P. Butts and Hon. Chester A. Miller had expected to leave this city this morning by auto for Saratoga, but Mr. Butts left early yesterday morning and Mr. Miller also reconsidered and left in the afternoon.

During the forenoon many cars from Binghamton and other towns of the southern tour passed through Oneonta, en route to the convention, and all allied with boomers of Mayor Walker for the governorship.

Bundy House a Community Building.

The authorized statement is made from Binghamton that George F. Johnson of the Endicott-Johnson Shoe company is remodeling the beautiful Bundy residence, lately purchased by him and will make it a community building for Endicott. The house was the pride of its former owner, the late Harlow E. Bundy, who was a former postmaster and well known citizen of Oneonta, and it is said to have cost him fully $80,000. It was sold by him to another party, by whom it was conveyed to Mr. Johnson. The building will be for general public uses and will include a fine library. The building will be thrown open to the public about September 1.

Good cooling is one of the chief blessings of every home. To insure uniform results, Baker's extracts should be used.

LOCAL MENTION.

—Ollie Davis, the well known D. &amp; H. trainman, has returned to Oneonta and taken a position on trains 503 and 304 between here and Albany.

—The paper bags that have won so much popularity among the Red Cross workers have arrived at headquarters and may be obtained at the same price as usual.

—There are still to be had this morning a few Chautauqua season tickets at the special advance sale price. They can be obtained of Edward Crippen at the Wilber National bank.

—Several D. &amp; H. officials left yesterday for Binghamton to handle the freight congestion in that city. The freight difficulty in the Binghamton yards is due chiefly to the great shortage of help at that place.

—W. O. Branaman's garage was taken over yesterday by E. D. House and P. R. Dutton, who will continue the garage as heretofore. The same mechanics will be in service and the courtesy and good work will still prevail. Mr. Branaman has been called to the colors.

—Howard L. Butts, of 9 Hickory street has purchased the Francis Motor Sales company a five passenger Nash touring car of the latest series. This car has been specially equipped with five non-skid Michelin tires, nickel bumpers, front and rear, and is one of the handsomest medium weight cars that has been seen on our streets this season.

—H. H. Colburn, who is now associated with the clothing firm of C. C. Colburn &amp; Son, has purchased of George Wohlleben, attorney for the estate of the late George Watkins, the Watkins property, located on South Side. Following repairs and alterations to the residence, Mr. Colburn will remove his family from Honoy Falls here to reside permanently.

—The funeral of the late Clarence Brown, whose death by drowning was told in The Star yesterday, will be held from his late home at 267 Chestnut street, on Wednesday, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Pendleton of the Free Baptist church will officiate and interment will be in the family plot at the Plains cemetery by the side of his late father, Samuel Brown, who died a few years since.

—Fred Wolcott has purchased of J. A. Dewar, the local agent, a fine new seven-passenger Cadillac eight touring car of attractive appearance. Mr. Dewar taking in part payment the former model of the same make which Mr. Wolcott has been driving. The new car is one of the finest cars ever received from the Cadillac people. Mr. Wolcott evidently is well satisfied with the Cadillac product.

Installs Air Outfit.

The Francis Motor Sales company of 293 Main street has added to its equipment a free air outfit for the convenience of the motoring public. This outfit consists of a tank mounted on wheels, and in addition a four cylinder air pump driven by electric motor, which may be started by simply plugging into any lamp socket. By means of a very ingenious filtering device, all oil due to passing through the pump is removed from the air. When a tank pressure of 150 pounds is reached, the switch is automatically thrown out and the motor stops.

As an instance of the difficulty of obtaining equipment this year, Mr. Francis states that this outfit was to have been delivered April 1, but actually arrived July 15.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS

SCOTTISH MUSICIANS AND DR. COOLIDGE AND MR. STOTT APPEAR.

First Day's Program Proves Excellent, with Patrons Well Pleased and Anticipating a Week of Inspiration and Profit.

The Chautauqua has such a firm grip upon its patrons that despite the severe heat of yesterday the opening day witnessed large audiences both afternoon and evening, although the local committee, despite the best efforts of many of its members, reports that there has been a slight falling off in the number of season tickets sold, the number being about 100 less than the guaranteed number late yesterday afternoon. The faithful, however, found the day's program one of abundant worth and merit and all agreed that a good introduction has been made. It is possible yet this morning to secure a limited number of the course tickets, which are in the hands of Edward Crippen, the treasurer of the committee, at the Wilber National bank.

Opening the afternoon, Dr. Dunn, as chairman of the local committee, welcomed the visit of the Redpath Chautauqua to the city, and congratulated Oneonta upon being one of the 2,000 cities and villages of the country which appreciate the talent which this organization secures. He quoted from President Wilson, whom he declared to be the foremost American of the day, the remark being greeted with hearty cheers, as declaring the Chautauqua to be a part of the war preparation and development essential for the successful conduct of it. He expressed his sense of personal satisfaction that Oneonta is a Chautauqua town and urged all to unite in giving it hearty support as one of the worthy institutions of the city. He presented Supt. O. S. Poland of Boston, Mass., in a complimentary way, referring to his position upon the faculty of Boston university and declaring that he will be found thoroughly well fitted for the duties.

Mr. Poland spoke briefly but to the point, thanking the city for the welcome accorded to the Chautauqua and expressing a firm conviction that all will be pleased and well pleased before the week is passed. He made the announcements for the day and the preliminary ones relative to lost articles, lost tickets and the like, and announced the Williams-McNeil company as the musicians of the afternoon. This trio is composed of Emerson Williams, a basso of an exceptionally captivating voice and presence; of Miss Jean MacNeil, a contralto of no mean powers as a vocalist, and Josef Martin, a piano soloist of talent, and the short musical prelude they rendered, opening the initial entertainment, was keenly enjoyed. The two soloists were heard in duet and solo numbers, all of merit, the rendition of Annie Laurie by Mr. Williams comparing favorably with the best ever heard here. Miss MacNeil also sang well in her solo numbers. Mr. Martin is unquestionably one of the most brilliant young pianists in the city in many a day, and all were pleased with his solos and with his work as an accompanist.

"The Road to Victory."

Dr. William A. Colledge, whose only claim to distinction does not rest upon the fact that he was three years with Stanley in Africa nor for nine years associated with Dr. Gunsaulus on the Armor Institute of Technology, but who has scored a success as book publisher and speaks with the experience of an educator and with the practical knowledge of a business man, was the lecturer of the afternoon, his subject being "The Road to Victory." "The world is full of people who are freely offering advice about things of which they know little," said he, but before he had concluded all were aware that he is qualified to speak upon success in life. While the scientist prates of heredity and the social worker of environment, he said the secret of accomplishment is not in brilliancy nor in fortunate circumstance but in the ability to work to complete the task assigned. There are those and many of them who simply need to "wake up." If you have money and a dog, keep them as far apart as possible, said the speaker. Americans who have succeeded have large indebtedness to intelligent initiative. Some one has defined a crank as a specialist in something in which you take no interest and the pathway of success is marked by men who have been cranks upon one subject. Imitation is a sign of weakness. Stud, out your problems and you will solve them better than some one less familiar with them can possibly do. We fail often because we study others more than we study ourselves.

In closing he referred to the task to which America has set herself and brought home to think that the victory had been won. We are against a mighty and resourceful foe, who has not reached the limit of his resources, he said. We must consecrate our best efforts and apply the same principles to this task as to individual success. He made an eloquent appeal for patriotic loyalty until victory is won and German aspirations to world power by means of a powerful army, ignoring all the finer sentiments that lift man above the brute, are forever blasted.

The Evening's Entertainment.

The evening entertainment drew an audience which practically filled the seats of the big Chautauqua tent and which, despite the not entirely alluring heat, listened with close attention to the too-brief concert which as a prelude to the lecture to come after was given by the Williams-McNeil-Martin company. The numbers vocal and instrumental, were all excellent, and in particular there was generous and well-merited applause for the Scotch dialect numbers which were presented. The lecture of the evening was by

THEY LEAVE THIS MORNING

PARTY OF 68 BRAVE BOYS FOR TRAINING AT CAMP MEADE

Depart at 6:30 O'clock Over the D. &amp; H. and Will Not Reach Camp If On Schedule Until Late in the Night—Band and Company G to Escort.

At 6:30 this morning 68 men of the selective draft from this district accompanied by a smaller delegation from the second Otsego district, will entrain for Camp Meade at Admiral Maryland, where they will at once commence training for the National army and for service in France. The event will be recognized by an escort to the station headed by Company G, and the Otsego City Band and a doubtless many citizens will turn out to bid the boys Godspeed and honor and glory while serving the nation and humanity.

The men residing in the city were privileged to spend the last night at home, the others being quartered for the night at The Windsor hotel. They will be called at 5 o'clock and will have breakfast at the Twentieth Century luncheon on Broad street. They will assemble at the state armory and march down as a body. At the armory the local Red Cross will have a canteen where from some remembrances will be passed out for the refreshment of the men on the train enroute. The day will be a long one for the schedule does not provide for their arrival until a late hour and the train will more than likely not deliver them there until a later hour even.

Nearly all of the men responded yesterday and the complement will be complete when the men depart in the delegation are numerous residents of the city and farwell social gatherings were held in various homes of the city for them to some of which reference is made elsewhere.

The men are in fine spirits and nearly all of them are fine appearing young chaps. One or two pathetic scenes were witnessed yesterday, one being a young mother with a wee babe in her arms—here for final word and parting with the husband and father. The men were conspicuous about the streets during the afternoon, the badge of honor upon the forearm making them all conspicuous.

The community is now well aroused and they may leave with perfect confidence that the folks at home are behind them to the last and that no sacrifices necessary to have them, weiled and cared for will be too great. With them go the best wishes of residents of the city and county.

WAR CHEST CORRECTIONS.

Name of Largest Contributor, George I. Wilber, Indebtedly Omitted.

By one of the fatalities which seem to follow some tasks, rendering it impossible to have it complete and correct, errors crept into the War Chest list as published in yesterday's issue. While his name was in the original proofs, in some way the name of George I. Wilber managed to be dropped out. In addition to his individual contribution of $7,500, he gives in fact also, according to his stock holdings, $750 of the $1,500 subscribed by the Wilber National bank and $600 of the $1,000 given by the Oneonta Water Works company, making a total of $9,150, a sum which many would consider a fair sized fortune. The Star regrets that neither of the sums named, that of the bank or the Water company, appeared. It is hoped that none of The Star readers who saw the list of yesterday will fail to observe also the corrections, for while all who had followed the lists as published from day to day some weeks ago were aware of his liberal contributions, others may not have seen them.

In some way also the name of William H. Burger of 39 Fair street, who gives $12, was omitted, and the contribution credited to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Moore should have been credited to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Morse.

Soldiers' Names Omitted.

In the Roll of Honor of Oneonta boys with the colors and serving their country there should have appeared also the names of Lieut. R. F. DeRonde, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. DeRonde of 37 Church street, who is a member of the 521st Engineers.

E. B. Hove, son of Mrs. B. W. Hove of 27 Clinton street, this city, is a member of the 139th Ordnance Depot company and volunteered from this city.

Earl Bailey, long a resident and well known to many Star readers, is also with the colors and should have a place upon the Roll of Honor.

ADVERTISING A Necessity

WHEN goods are scarce and prices high, people are more appreciative than ever of the right kind of advertising.

They are seeking information. They want to know how to buy to the best advantage.

They want to know how to fill their needs and avoid waste. They welcome news of desirable substitutes for the things the country, needs to conserve.

They read the newspapers carefully.

The merchant or manufacturer who does not advertise is not only missing the purely selfish opportunity, but he is failing in the service he owes to his customers.
